

Atlantic Technical Center and Technical High School, Coconut Creek, Florida
Ruben Montes, a Cisco Networking student at Atlantic Technical Center and Technical High School qualified for Round 2 of the Academy Netriders competition where participants get hands-on experience in a competitive environment. Uniting students from around the world, the competitions are interactive, and provide career opportunities and internships through increased visibility. Ruben is one of only 6 students in Florida who qualified to advance to the next round, which was given the 3rd week of November and we are awaiting the results. If successful during Round 2, he will be able to advance to the final round held November 30th. Congratulations go to Ruben, and to his instructor, Ellen Williams, for this wonderful accomplishment.
