District-Level Leadership

District-level administrators must look at schools on an individual basis and distribute resources based on students’ and teachers’ levels of need. To describe the district system for monitoring reading instruction that differentiates school-level services, please address the following.

- 1. Districts should match or exceed the State Board goals for increasing FSA-ELA achievement by six percentile points, increasing the percentage of students making learning gains on the FSA-ELA by seven percentile points and reducing the achievement gap for the identified sub groups on the FSA-ELA by at least one-third by 2020. Please fill out the charts below with the actual results from the 2015-2016, 2016-2017 and 2017-2018 FSA-ELA and the interim district goals for 2020 identified in the 2017-2018 Comprehensive Reading Plan.

2. Explain how expenditures from the allocation are expected to impact student achievement in relation to your district goals.

Expenditures from this allocation will impact student achievement by providing reading coaches at each school site, specific professional development to ensure teachers have all the skills necessary to move students academically, programs to support reading instruction K-12.

3. In regard to district-level monitoring of student achievement progress, please address the following:

A. Who at the district level is responsible for collecting and reviewing student progress monitoring data?

The Coordinator of Accountability and Assessment will collect data at the three Interim Assessment windows monitoring student progress toward the district goals. The Superintendent and/or his designee will meet with the Principals three times a school year to review their data and discuss the monitoring process that is in place at each school. These Data Chat meetings review successes, areas for improvement and identify strategies to meet goals.

B. What specific school-level progress monitoring data will be collected at the district level to determine that students are progressing toward the district goals stated above? Please specify which grade levels are associated with specific school-level progress monitoring tools discussed in this section.

The iReady diagnostic assessment will be given three times each school year for all students in Kindergarten through fifth grade. Students in grades two through five will also take Standards Mastery assessments based on the major work standards as determined in the district curriculum map and pacing chart. Tier 2 & 3 students in grades 6-8 will be assessed three times a year using Exact Path (Edmentum). Tier 3 students in grades nine through twelve will be assessed three times a year using Exact Path (Edmentum).

C. How often will student progress monitoring data be collected and reviewed by the district?

Progress monitoring will take place three times each school year.

4. Who at the district level is responsible for ensuring the fidelity of students not progressing towards district goals receiving appropriate interventions?

The Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent for Instructional Services, Director of Student Services, Director of ESE, and the Coordinator of Assessment and Accountability are responsible for ensuring students not progressing toward the district goals are receiving appropriate interventions.

5. In regard to district-level monitoring of instructional alignment to grade-level Florida Standards, please address the following:

The district will use the Instructional Practice Guide (IPG) from Achieve the Core as the data collection instrument for classroom observations and walk-throughs with district and school-based administrators during instructional rounds once each month. Additionally, standards mastery assessments will be given each grading period in grades K-8. These assessments are given in sequence of instruction on each standard.

C. How often will this evidence be collected at the district level?

Instructional rounds will be conducted side-by-side with district and school-based administrators once each month. Standards mastery assessments will be given each grading period.

APPENDIX B

Identification of Students with Reading Deficiencies and Intervention Supports

In this section districts will describe how they identify students with substantial reading deficiencies and provide them with required interventions. Districts will create three Identification/Intervention Decision Tree charts to demonstrate how data from screening, diagnostic, progress monitoring, local assessments, statewide assessments or teacher observations will be used to determine specific reading instructional needs and interventions for students. It is important to note that a school may not wait for a student to receive a failing grade at the end of a grading period to identify the student as having a substantial deficiency in reading. If a local assessment is being used for identification, districts should internally analyze their data in order to ensure students are identified at similar rates as on statewide assessments. Districts who use a procured diagnostic, progress monitoring or assessment tool should, at a minimum, use the recommended ranges provided by the instrument developer; however, these districts should also ensure that rates of identification correlate to statewide performance.

- DT1 – Elementary (K-5)
- DT2 – Middle (6-8)
- DT3 – High (9-12)

The charts must contain the following information:

- The grade level(s) of the student;
- Name and performance benchmark on screening, diagnostic, progress monitoring, local assessment, statewide assessment or teacher observations used to identify students with substantial deficiencies in reading and subsequent interventions provided. FSA-ELA scores must be used for appropriate grade levels;
- DT1 must clearly state the conditions the district uses to determine whether a student has a substantial reading deficiency and will subsequently notify the student's parent as required in Section 1008.25, F.S. This also includes a description of the intensive, explicit, systematic and multisensory reading interventions which will be provided to students in grades K-3;
- DT1 must include information on how the Florida Kindergarten Readiness Screener will be used to identify students for intervention. For each grade level on each chart, districts must include a description of which students will be reported in the Student Information System with an appropriate code for the Reading Intervention Component; and
- An explanation of how instruction will be modified for students who have not responded to a specific reading intervention with the initial intensity (time and group size) provided;
